Dear Ms. Lalonde,

On behalf of the Canadian Association of Social Workers (CASW), I would like to extend our sincere congratulations on your re-election.

As background for you, since 1926, CASW has been the national association voice for social work in Canada with the dual mission of strengthening the profession and advancing issues of social justice.

This letter of welcome has particular significance to the social work community. As a former social worker, your re-election not only inspires pride in our profession, but will greatly contribute to your party's renewed and ongoing commitment to a better Canada.

As you are aware, March is designated as National Social Work Month in Canada – a time for social workers to gather to celebrate the profession and focus our advocacy efforts in support of real social change. In this regard, please accept this letter as a request to meet, preferably in March, however at your convenience, to further discuss our shared priorities in building a healthier, more equitable country.

CASW looks forward to supporting you in your important role, as well as to ongoing collaboration with the federal government for a bold, novel and just Canada.

Sincerely,

Joan Davis-Whelan MSW, RSW
CASW President
