A critical component of this initiative is our enhanced community program built around four collaborative teams based in HUB communities along with additional resources in smaller communities.

Reporting to the Manager, Communities, Mental Wellness & Substance Use Services (MWSUS), the Clinical Supervisor is responsible for day-to-day operations of quality clinical services. The Community MWSUS Program provides a full range of assessment, treatment, early intervention and aftercare support services to individuals of all ages, in rural Yukon, experiencing a personal or family crisis, and those experiencing mental health and/or substance use problems. The Clinical Supervisor will be managing Master's level clinicians, Bachelor's level counsellors, Mental Health Nurses, and Support Workers as part of a multidisciplinary team, based in multiple communities outside of Whitehorse.

Clinical Supervisors work collaboratively with the Managers and Director to establish guidelines for practice and emerging best practices in the field of mental health and substance use, including screening, assessment, treatment, consultation and education. The position will involve responsibility for program development reflective of community needs, clinical supervision, direction and training, file audits, and other quality assurance and improvement initiatives.
